discuss both views - living in an apartment or living in a house

In modern life these days, some people like living in an apartment, while others prefer living in a house. In my opinion, I will choose living in a house because of some reasons that are discussed in the following essay.

It is very clear that there are many benefits of living in a house in our life. First and foremost, one of the most important benefits of living in a house to discuss in this essay is that it will help us feel comfortable. That is because we can do anything that we like. For example, we can decorate many things in our house. Besides, another typical benefit to make clear this topic is that it will help us have many new relationships. That is because we can make friends with neighbors. In short, they are all benefits of living in a house that we are very easy to see.

On the other hand, besides a lot of benefits of living in a house that it brings to our life, we cannot deny some advantages of living in an apartment clearly. To begin with, one of the most typical advantages of this problem is that it will help us save money. In fact, we can pay money every month, so we can limit unnecessary expenses. We will have money to do other things. Moreover, another point of living in an apartment to consider is that it is very convenient. It means that we can choose an apartment near the city center to live and work. In summary, they are all major advantages of this problem that we should consider carefully.

To sum up, from what we have discussed above, although living in a house has a lot of benefits in our life, some people still prefer living in an apartment. From my point of view, we should consider this problem carefully before we make the final decision.

- dạng 1 yêu cầu => khó đủ chữ => đưa ví dụ

For example, SVO = For instance, SVO

Take O as an example, SVO

Save time => take me as an example, I can save time to do homework, so it helps me have more time to do other things

According to some newspapers, SVO

I want to invite you because I love you

The concert is very happy and interesting

It will take place at Kiwi park at 7 p.m

I have the ticket by my mother

In modern life these days, children spend a lot of time.....children for the real world. In my opinion, I strongly agree with the idea that children should be encouraged to use the media because of some reasons that are discussed in the following essay.

TB1: AAs = benefits

+ relax

+ widen knowledge

TB2: BBs = drawbacks

- affect health

- waste time

XXXX = using the media
